Speaking Topics

New thoughts on leadership

From transactional to transformational leadership exploring your style, your self-awareness and your next steps.

Supercharge your team

High performing teams have key characteristics – how is yours doing and what do you need to do to raise their game?

Be the person everyone wants in their team

Take responsibility for your behaviour and become the best you can be for personal fulfilment and team success.

Your audience will walk away energised and reassured with plenty of down to earth practical actions they can use to become even better.

About Sharpstone Skinner

We are a learning and development consultancy specialising in facilitation and coaching for team and leadership excellence.

We have been working across the corporate, public and voluntary sectors since 1997. We use our experience in sales, HR and Learning and Development to add huge value to any clients we work with. Our passion is in the practical. We readily and easily understand the challenges of our clients and work alongside them to get the results they want with no fuss, no drama and no jargon. We get them thinking, laughing and then taking action.
